i Thoughts on the Gospel Jesus' 'Follow Me' involves renouncing the security of the known, and committing to the unknown, in order to embrace the fullness of life.

n We must integrate contemplation and action, so that the source of our action is inspired and motivated by God's Holy Spirit. Christians live with the tension of Mary and Martha—between the active and the contemplative. However, for Jesus it is not a case of 'either-or' but 'both-and'

o What Jesus is really doing in today's Gospel is inviting us to marvel at the never ending wonder of a God who created such diversity in life and this in turn has enabled us to observe the miracle that insight and awareness could create within us. It helps people to appreciate the words of the Dominican Mister Eckhart: 'One must not always think so much about what one should do, but rather what one should be. Our works do not ennoble us; but we must ennoble our works.'

u We do not have to commit to living our lives in a cloister but Jesus is telling us that in prayer we surrender our trust to God's mysterious ways and loving care so as to discern how to be attentive to our sisters and brothers and how best to live truthfully and honestly and lovingly.
